

My desire is that the FCC should NOT implement any proposal that would LESSEN or WEAKEN Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. These protections have improved the quality of my private time in my home because I'm not constantly receiving unwanted sales solicitations from aggressive telemarketers. I used to receive on average 10-12 such calls per weeks. I find it appalling that telemarketers can make unsolicited calls for the purposes of making sales. My home environment and telephone are private. I should not be at the mercy of telemarketers when in my own home!
